

CURRENT CREEK COAL.

Miners and Teams Have Gone Over the Ridge to Open the Mines and Break the Road.

At last, a move has been made to ward bringing coal from the Current Creek mines. If the venture is a successful one, and there is no reason to doubt that it will be, the coal mine in this valley is not only broken but at an end.

The Wasatch Lumber Company, through Geo. A. Wootton, its manager, took the matter up this week and employed four men with teams to break the road and two miners to dig the coal. The expedition started out yesterday morning. The personnel of the party are John Lloyd and John Davis, miners; Henry Baird, Wm. McMillan, B. L. Clegg, and Francis Moulton, teamsters, and Elisha Cummings as guide. Another squad of teams are expected to start Sunday morning and the pioneer company is expected home Sunday afternoon loaded with coal. Mr. Wootton has full charge of all arrangements and will issue permits to teamsters to get loads in such a way that there will be no loss of time by having to wait for the coal to be dug after reaching the mine. Those who go Sunday morning will get their coal free, after that the teamsters will pay the expense of mining.

The distance is about twenty five miles and it is said that the trip can be made in two days. It is thought that one team can bring 2500 pounds by doubling up two short hills, but as the trip has not yet been made this is only conjecture. One thing is certain and that is coal can be had from that source and those who are familiar with the route believe there is money in it for the freighter.

An Easy Matter.

The man was playing euchre with the latest belle of the mountain house, while his bride of three months was trying to busy her mind as well as her fingers with a piece of embroidery.

Suddenly the husband turned toward the wife with a patronizing air.

"Pardon me," he exclaimed; "I hadn't noticed that I was between you and the light!"

"Oh, pray don't move!" the little woman replied. "I can see through you perfectly well."—Comstock's
